DID YOU KNOW ABOUT THESE RESOURCES?

Enrollment in the Dept. of State's STEP (Smart Traveler Enrollment Program) program for study abroad students and/or groups taking overseas trips is a "smart" idea. More information can be found at: <https://step.state.gov/step/>

Subscribe for alerts and updates or find information on these websites:

Secure Community Network:

<https://www.securecommunitynetwork.org/> and the U.S. Dept. of State's Overseas Security Advisory Council (OSAC), <https://www.osac.gov/Pages/Home.aspx>

This year the NFPA updated standard 3000 (PS) Standard for an Active Shooter / Hostile Event Response (ASHER) Program. The standard covers a myriad of preparatory and response issues related to an active shooter/threat incident, and you may find it to be an invaluable resource as you grow your active threat programs. More information can be found at: NFPA 3000.

Another valuable resource is the newly updated 2018 NFPA standard 730 Guide for Premises Security. More information can be found on this standard at: NFPA 730.

Saint Michael's College Public Safety, Saint Michael's Fire and Rescue and Colchester Police in Unified Command at their annual emergency exercise last month.

LOOKING FOR HOSTS

NECUSA is looking for member institutions willing to be a host site for a NECUSA Professional Development (PD) 1-day training program. If you are interested in providing this valuable service to all of your NECUSA colleagues, please e-mail NECUSA board member Tim Munro at tmunro@skidmore.edu and he will begin coordinating logistics for a future PD to be held at your campus.

How does your department compare in pay? Find out here.

NECUSA is looking for members with instructor certifications in any of the myriad of topics related to campus security. We are looking for professionals with instructor certifications and experience in providing training for command and/or line staff. We want our PD's to be available to all levels of personnel within our departments and we will be looking to provide PD's to both command and line level personnel. If you have an instructor certification in a campus security related subject matter. Contact a board member.

PEER REVIEW

NECUSA professionals have conducted two recent Campus Safety/Police peer reviews at member institutions and provided recommendations for organizational improvement. For peer review information please contact Bill Lafferty at: wlaffert@gettysburg.edu
